

We'd rather be fishing.

Instead, hunters and anglers representing millions of sportsmen and women are on Capitol Hill today to talk climate change.

Bold action on climate change is in our sights.
We want to make sure that's a target Congress is aiming for too.

We can't wait for action on climate change. Every time we head out to hunt or fish, we see the effects of global warming. It's a problem that is only getting worse—and more expensive to fix—the longer we wait.

That's why so many hunters and anglers are here, on Capitol Hill, urging Congress to act. It's time to invest in a clean energy economy that will create jobs and safeguard America's wildlife and natural heritage for generations to come.
